ANOTHER PARTITION OF POLAND

Whether the next partition of Poland will prove more equitable than previous partitions resulting from friction between the Russians and Prussians is the direct question in the current controversy over the fate of that nation; a change in its boundaries is a foregone conclusion. If the Russians forego the opportunity which military success has given them to make a harsh and arbitrary settlement, that will be a triumph for enlightened diplomacy. Their apparent inclination to take Polish rights and feelings into consideration is perhaps the best omen in the war to date for post-war settlements based on something more than unadorned power.

The Russians cannot be expected to forget that the Poles were unwilling to accept the Curzon (in honor of Lord Curzon British foreign minister who proposed it) line after World War I. Poland made war on Russia to get more territory and when the war went badly called on the Allies for help. Though no official aid was forthcoming, the French sent Gen. Weygand, who extricated them, with the aid of Allied military supplies. The British historian Lord d'Abernon lists the result among the 18 decisive battles of the world, on the ground that failure would have opened the whole of central Europe to Russian influence.

The war was settled by the Treaty of Riga in 1921. Poland, basing its claims on the Polish frontier as it had existed in 1772, took about one fourth of the territory known as White Russia, containing upward of 1,500,000 Russian inhabitants. The friction generated by their inclusion in Poland did not interfere seriously with Polish-Russian relations until the beginning of war in 1939, when one of Russia's opening moves, made in apparent collaboration with Germany, was to regain what it never had been reconciled to losing. Poles who are not reconciled to losing anything now must remember that Russian irreconcilability also must be considered—and that without Russia all of Poland would be safely in the hands of the Germans.

RULING ON POSSIBILITIES

Atty. Gen. Biddle's convenient ruling that Secretary of Interior Ickes may retain control of coal mines which, if turned back to their owners, might have more labor trouble has more possibilities in it than a Victory Garden seed collection.

Offhand, under the policies favored by John L. Lewis as president of United Mine Workers, it is hard to imagine when the possibility of labor trouble ever disappears entirely from the coal mines. While the union's record for sticking by its contracts is good, Mr. Lewis was among the first to make the great modern discovery in labor relations under the supervision of the Roosevelt administration—that labor leaders are playing a no-limit game in which they cannot lose. For obvious reasons, they would like to have the government keep dealing the cards forever.

If they had any doubt of it before, Mr. Biddle's ruling should reassure them. Long after the wage issue in the coal industry supposedly is settled and after the government's operation supposedly is terminated by the limitations written into the Smith-Connally act, it must hold on to most of the mines because Mr. Lewis may keep right on playing to win. If Mr. Lewis is smart, which he is, he and Mr. Ickes would be separated for a long time.

THE HOSTAGE PRINCIPLE

The proposal for a national service law as a means of averting strikes—the excuse used by President Roosevelt—boils down to this: That every civilian male from 18 to 65 and every female from 18 to 50 would become a hostage for the good behavior of a tiny minority of the population which the government wants to discipline.

The hostage principle has been used widely by the authoritarian governments, though with dubious results. The Germans have held villages responsible for the offenses of a few inhabitants. They destroyed Lidice because it was charged with harboring some of the heroes who murdered Reinhardt Heydrich. In Poland, many cases of executions in reprisal for acts against the government set up by the invaders have been reported—executions of innocent persons in an attempt to establish discipline by terror.

Of course, nothing so brutal even has been thought about here, but the principle is disturbingly familiar.

RUSSIA REMEMBERS, TOO

It is ridiculous to hear Russian diplomacy discussed as a possible threat to amicable international relations, without acknowledgment of parallel threats in the diplomacy of other governments.

There is no choice between the threat of a Russian policy of uninhibited power politics, which is an eventuality greatly to be feared, and the pre-war practice of power politics which reached a climax at Munich, where Russia was not even represented. Neither is a proper pattern of international diplomacy for the years immediately ahead. The Russian government hardly can be expected to take for granted the good faith of its allies in dealing with Poland, for instance, until convinced by something more tangible than high intentions that they are genuinely interested in Russia's post-war security as well as their own. The consequences of the handling of the de Gaulle issue in North Africa, wherein Russian influence was indirectly at stake, may be coming to light sooner than expected.

There is a bright prospect for an era of international good feeling, if the diplomatic problems arising from the war are handled well. Premature conclusions and prejudices must be guarded against. No government approaches the task with clean hands, but if their constituent populations are lucky—and alert—all governments may feel obligated to tackle it with a minimum of the bad faith that has cursed international relations so heavily throughout the last generation.

FEDERAL INSURANCE

The social security board's recommendation for federal insurance to cover doctor and hospital bills will touch off a brisk fight, but before the fight can settle anything something else must be settled.

What is federal "insurance"?

The Roosevelt administration recently has made it plain that money collected for old age benefits, sometimes called old age insurance, is regarded as nothing more nor less than revenue; though needing no increase in rates to make payments, it has insisted on an increase as part of its revenue program.

Until the people can be sure that federal insurance isn't one more way of getting one more hand into their pockets besides the hands already there, they will do well to stick to insurance companies for their insurance.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, January 20

THE PECULIAR or erratic aspects of this day would seem to urge a policy that might be read as sober, sane and serious, and not jump into intriguing or dangerous situations or snares without due analysis, consideration and keen rationalizing. The impulse is to act on emotions, and with expediency rather than principle, when making momentous decisions. The easiest way seems the road to take but it is beset with fraud, duplicity and sinister circumstances likely to have an unhappy reaction on position, reputation and health. There may be consolation or sound advice to be had from the domestic, social or affectional associates. Keep firm control on sudden or illicit promptings.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of singular and difficult experiences, with urges and impulses not to be indulged or given unbridled leash as this will lead to pitfalls, snares and complications of a deplorable nature. Peculiar entanglements may prove powerful enough to reflect on the character, reputation, health and social prestige. A safe and sane policy should be rigidly maintained, in business, finance, domestic, social and all other alliances. An undercurrent sinister and sordid is also accompanied by erratic and strange impulses or emotions. Seek wise counsel from true friends.

A child born on this day should be given an understanding and practical analysis as to its inner urges and emotional responses, lest these grow into future menace and defeat.

The United Nations have no intention to enslave the German people. We wish them to have a normal chance to develop, in peace, as useful and respectable members of the European family.—President Roosevelt.

Government must be framed for man as he is, and not for man as he should be if he were free from vice.—James Kent, 1826.

Many kiss the child for the nurse's sake.—English proverb.

Civil dissension is a viperous worm That gnaws the bowels of the commonwealth.—Shakespeare.

It doesn't much signify whom one marries, for one is sure to find next morning that it was someone else.—Samuel Roger, 1856.

Quintuplets Use Musterole For Chest Colds!

To Promptly Relieve Coughing and Make Breathing Easier

Whenever the Dittus Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole—a product made especially to promptly relieve coughing, sore throat and tight, aching chest muscles due to colds. Musterole actually helps break up local congestion in the upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

Musterole gives such wonderful results because it's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter irritant. Since it's used on the famous "Quints"—you can be sure it's just about the BEST cold-relief you can buy!

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole for children and people with tender skin; Regular for ordinary colds and Extra Strong for stubborn cases.

Every American fighting man has a dream. A dream of a day to come—of the day when the war is won. When he can return to home and family and friends, once again to live in the ways of peace. We at home can help his dream come true sooner—by doing the little things asked of us to speed Victory. We can buy bonds, and more bonds, and keep them, and keep on doing it—till the boys come home.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Mental Diseases Caused by War

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IT TAKES no great demand on the imagination for the civilian to realize what stress and strain the mind and the emotions of the soldier or sailor have to endure under modern conditions of warfare. Indeed my observation is that the civilian population thinks about it more than anything else. "How do they stand it?" "How do they endure the strain?" Those are the remarks we hear about us all the time.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

It is no great wonder to us, then, to learn that a large number do break. We still have 67,000 mental and personality casualties of World War I in our Veterans' Hospitals and 10,000 men a month are being currently discharged from the army for psychiatric reasons, according to the magazine, "Fortune."

A Pitiful Sight
A letter from a friend of mine, a medical officer in Africa, makes special mention of the large number of nervous breakdowns and mental wrecks he had in the hospital. He added they were a pitiful sight.

There are two features of this situation that should be remembered by the public. The first is that these people are really sick, even if they have no wounds or organic disease. It is common practice even among some medical men to say "Oh, there's nothing the matter with him." What they mean is that there is nothing organic the matter. But that doesn't mean that the trouble is not real, or that these men are fit for duty, because they are not. That seems to have been the attitude of General Patton, for instance, and it must be of many others. General Patton didn't seem to think that a medical officer could tell whether a man was fit for duty or not, but his rugged intuition could. That hard common-sense attitude has been the greatest bar to the proper handling of these cases. A few of the shocked soldiers are fakers, but an experienced psychiatrist can usually spot them. The second point is that the neuroses of war are the same as the neuroses of peace. War simply supplies the strain and stress that finds the breaking point. If in civilian life some such stress came along the individual would crack just the same.

Appropriate Name
Objections to the name "shell shock" for these conditions have been voiced, but until a better name comes along, that World War I diagnosis will do quite well. It is true many of them have never been near a bursting shell, but that was true in World War I also. The soldiers call them "eight balls" because Section VIII Army regulations provide for discharge for such cases. Or they are "barrack wacky," or "bomb happy". Air men have "Zerolitis". The coast guard has "convoy jitters".

The symptoms show that "jitters" is a good word for them. They have tremblings. They are unable to concentrate. They are so alert to noises and movements that they seem to keep constant vigil. Then there comes on personality change. They are depressed, intolerant of argument, morose, and they assume a feeling of guilt for what is going on.

Of course the draft boards try to screen out these men before they are inducted, and many of them can be made useful for other than combat duty.

Treatment for rehabilitation is carried out by the medical corps, using rest, extra feeding, occupational therapy, discussions with the psychiatrist and all forms of psychotherapy. The idea is not so much to return these men to duty, but to prepare them for usefulness on their discharge to civil life.

Sugar Outlook Brighter, U. S. Civilians Are Told

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 — The sugar supply shouldn't get any worse in 1944 — it may get much better by fall — but sugar industry leaders expect rationing to be continued.

Perhaps the "sweetest part" of the sugar situation, industry leaders said today is that the armed forces are getting a wallowing big supply of candy bars and soft drinks, with high energy-giving sugar content.

The civilian population, meanwhile, has fared somewhat better in the past year than expected. At the beginning of 1943, sugar supplies for the general public were restricted to 70 per cent of the 1941 consumption, but increases during the year brought consumption up to 80 per cent of normal.

Former Constable Freed

WARREN, Jan. 19 — Pvt. Edwin Smith, former Brookfield township constable, is on the way back to army service at Camp Phillips, Kan., after being held in county jail since last July.

He was freed of an indictment for bribery after Mrs. Helen Barnes of nearby Massary retained a charge that she paid him for alleged "protection." She has been indicted on a charge of operating a house of ill fame.

Mrs. Barnes told Judge A. O. Lea that she was "angry" at Smith and made the charge in spite.

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel tired — listless? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat — you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice — liver bile — each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails — your food may remain undigested — in your stomach and in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands — often in as little as thirty minutes. When the bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better — which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion — when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today — at any drugstore — only 25c. You will be glad you did.

Washington Round-up

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The news railroads have shaken off a probable threat of a tie-up through labor disputes—but Chairman Wheeler of the senate interstate commerce committee warns they are now confronted by another—increasing manpower shortage.

Following last night's return of roads to private operators after element of wage differences with ties all around, the Montana senator warned that although the nation is critical not because of the loss of many railroad men to draft and war industries, it will come worse when the war in the west increases in intensity.

Raises to the approximately one and a quarter million men of from 11 cents an hour are expected to cost the roads $240,000,000 annually—plus retroactive pay awards.

LABOR DRAFT

One administration program closely akin to the manpower certificate—the proposal that workers be assigned for war industries—is being received any too enthusiastically by Congress.

The senate military committee is sitting on the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill and is showing an inclination to get up.

Thus the measure which was re-introduced in both houses of congress immediately after President Roosevelt's address proposing a labor draft.

Sen. Johnson (D-Colo.) scored advances of Secretary of War Stimson and Navy Secretary Knox before the senate military committee today to discuss their views on the labor draft as attempts to "Prussianize" the people.

"Why must the President listen to these military reactionaries in the conduct of civilian affairs," asked Johnson in a radio address.

FOURTH TERM

California one-time Gov. Olson says the Democrats of that state are prepared to plump for a fourth term and will send to the national convention a delegation which will vote solidly on the first ballot for President Roosevelt's renomination.

Olson, in Washington to attend a meeting of the Democratic national committee, said "we feel it is essential that President Roosevelt's leadership be continued in the war and during the period of transition to the peace."

The California delegation, he added, also is behind Vice President Wallace for reelection. Another national committee member, James C. Quigley of Nebraska, said he believed the Democrats had lost the farm vote in the west and was critical of Farm Secretary Wickard and Farm Credit Administration Governor A. C. Black. Said Quigley: "It would be a Godsend to the farmers of the midwest if they both were replaced."

Steelworkers' Wage Request Faces WLB

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—The demands of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America for a 17-cents an hour wage increase in the steel industry, which would break the "Little Steel" wage formula, was headed today for the War Labor Board.

A spokesman for the five subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel Corp. announced last night Secretary of Labor Perkins has been asked to certify the negotiations between the corporation and the union to the board for a hearing.

John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel, declared the union's proposals would cost the corporation alone about $180,000,000 annually, or $9 a ton for finished steel.

"They are of such a nature as not to permit solution in collective bargaining since they either involve departure from the national economic stabilization program, or concern fundamental matters of principle on which the respective viewpoints cannot be reconciled," Stephens added.

A spokesman for Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers, said there would be no comment at this time on the move.

From the time and care which the union has taken in its negotiations with the corporation, which produces about one-third of the nation's steel, it has been generally understood the case will be the one which will act as a test for the entire industry and its 826,000 workers.

fighting in the armed forces. They have been told not only that they must serve, but the time, the place and the method of their service has been chosen for them.

Says War Far From Ended

"On the other side they see that the government imposes no corresponding duty upon the remaining men of the nation and even permits them to leave the most important war jobs without regard to the needs of the country."

The armed forces, he stated, are "beginning to feel that they are being discriminated against."

Stimson branded as wishful thinking all talk that the war is almost over.

"In fact the war is not almost over," he declared.

"To me it appears to be the plain duty of the Congress to give our troops this all-out necessary backing," he told the senate military committee as it reopened hearings on national service legislation requested by President Roosevelt to prevent strikes and make virtually all able-bodied men and women subject to assignment to essential tasks.

U. S. Tax Official Hits Black Market Liquor Operations

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19.—The federal government plans to halt "black market" liquor operations in Ohio, where more than 90 per cent of the whisky purchased through the state liquor control board's consent system flows into illicit channels, says the district supervisor of the Internal Revenue bureau's alcohol tax unit.

E. E. Koehler, whose Detroit office covers Ohio and Michigan, in an interview here last night declared "under Ohio law the liquor board is the only wholesaler qualified to conduct a wholesale business within the state, providing the only source of supply for retailers whether they operate within their quotas set by the board or supplement their quotas by consent importation through the board from outside the state."

The supervisor reported numerous violations of federal regulations occurred through the consent system and that "over 90 per cent of such consent shipments investigated by the alcohol tax unit have definite 'black market' ramifications."

"The majority of these shipments," he added, "are composed of off or recently created brands, the product of the unscrupulous element of the industry."

Koehler said violators would be brought before federal grand juries. He explained that under a new Treasury department ruling distillers were required to make daily instead of the previous monthly report to facilitate checking for possible federal infractions.

He proposed that the board withhold consent approvals from out-of-state wholesale dealers involved in "black market" deals and that reputable distillers and producers of standard brands take necessary precautions against sale to dealers involved in illicit operations.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

GOV. BRICKER BACK FROM SPEECH TOUR

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 19.—Gov. John W. Bricker definitely "won some delegates" to the Republican national convention during a speaking tour through the southwest in behalf of his candidacy for the party's presidential nomination, his secretary, Robert L. Barton, said today.

Bricker and his party returned here unexpectedly by private plane from Tulsa, Okla., early today. The governor did not come to his office but went to the mansion to rest before leaving tonight for Buffalo, N. Y., where he speaks to the Torch club tomorrow night. He previously had planned to go to Buffalo without returning to Columbus.

"The governor made a very favorable impression on Republican leaders and the people of the southwest," Barton commented. "He was very well pleased with the reception accorded him and he won some delegates."

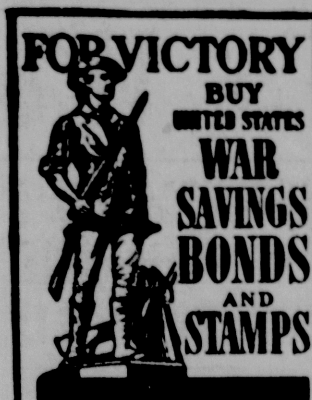

The governor left here last Wednesday for speaking engagements in Texas and Missouri. He also met with Kansas Republican leaders.

Following his Buffalo talk, Bricker goes to Pittsburgh Jan. 27 to address a McKinley day dinner.

Those returning with the governor were Barton, John W. Galbreath, his campaign director; Roy D. Moore, campaign manager and Frank E. Avren, press representative.

Rationing Notes For Consumer, Merchant

Retail food dealers were reminded again today by the District Office of Price administration that they must file applications immediately for ration tokens which they will need when the token plan goes into effect on Feb. 27.

J. E. Beck, district food rationing executive, said most retailers already had filed applications with their banks for the initial supply of tokens which they estimated they would need.

Fresh fruit and vegetable ceiling prices will remain unchanged both at wholesale and retail levels for the week beginning Thursday, Jan. 20, district OPA officials announced.

These dollar-and-cent prices covering approximately a dozen important fruits and vegetables are set each week in conference between OPA food specialists and a committee of representative retailers and wholesalers.

Quakers' Loss To Warren Presidents Is Fifth This Season

Salem Loses Exciting Game To Warren By 43-37 Score; Quakers At Canton Friday

For the second time in five days the Salem High Quakers dropped a game 43 to 37—this time at the hands of the powerful Warren Presidents, who coupled their fast break with the scoring abilities of Jack Martin and Gene Rossi to hand the locals their fifth loss in nine games at the High school gym last night.

Warren led all the way, after breaking a 2-2 tie that lasted five minutes of the first quarter. From then on the Quakers trailed, but they did come within two points of the Presidents in the third stanza and got within five points a minute before the game ended.

Warren outscored Salem in first and third periods, tied them in the second, and fell four points short of the Quakers' mark in the final.

Jack Martin, towering guard, dumped in 16 points, making 12 from the floor and four from the free line—where he performed with perfection. Captain Gene Rossi, always a point-getter for the Trumbull county lads, collected five field goals for 10 points and played a bang-up game defensively—snatching the ball from Quaker hands on several tries and bothering them constantly with his efficient guarding.

Brian, Wise Shine
For Salem, Walter Brian again came through with high-scoring honors and held his man, George Marti, with just two field goals—the lowest total made by the pivot man this season. Marti held Brian to one field goal in the first half but found him too potent in the latter part of the ball game, when Brown's flashy center came through with four field goals—three of them in the final quarter—and two free throws.

Close behind Brian, and playing his best game of the year, was Ray Wise with his 12 points from five field goals and two fouls. Wise led the Salem attack throughout the first half, putting on a one man scoring battle with Bill Cain of Warren early in the second period. Cain and Wise tossed in eight points between them in less than a minute of playing time as the second stanza got underway. Three of Wise's five goals came from push-up shots around the foul line.

From the foul line the Quakers duplicated their performance at East Liverpool, making five out of 11 tries. Warren outdid them with five conversions in eight tries.

Score 19 Field Goals
The Presidents got 19 field goals, nine from under-basket, five on long shots, two from foul line push-up shots, and one each on a fast break, a pivot, and a rebound. The Quakers put in 15 baskets, eight of them from under-basket, three on long ones, two on push-ups, and one each on a pivot, a fast break, and a rebound.

The locals started slowly and trailed at the end of the first period 8-2. Only two field goals were made in the first five minutes of play, but Warren cut loose in the last three to collect a trio of two pointers and widen the margin.

The second stanza was the fastest of all, with 26 points being scored by the two squads. In this period it looked as if the Quakers might overtake the Presidents, as the score stood 12-10 midway in the quarter, but Warren again took over and made it 18-10 before Salem tallied again. By the end of the half Salem made up two points of the lead and equalled the President's 13 points in the period. Wise led this barrage with seven points and the score was 21 to 15 when the rest period came around.

Visitors Increase Lead
The third chapter was disastrous for Salem as Warren increased their lead by four points and put themselves just a little out of reach for the fighting Quakers. Warren garnered six points in this period, while Rossi got four and Marti two. For Salem, Brian got four, Wise two, and Enriken two more.

The final period was probably the most exciting, as Salem made a last minute attempt to overcome the ten point lead held by Warren. The scoring started when Martin sank two fouls. Ray Wise then got one of his push-up shots and it was 35-25. Jack Martin came up with another from under-basket and Brian followed with a two pointer from underneath. Then Rossi connected and Jim Appedisan, in the game for Wise, made one good. The score was 39-29.

Bill Cain got a one-handed toss from the right side of the court, but "Mutt" Schaeffer dropped one from the center of the floor and the difference was still ten points. Ray Wise, back in the game at guard, made good on a foul and it was 41-32. Enriken was detected fouling Martin and the lanky center boosted the lead to 10 points again. With little more than a minute to go Walter Brian broke through with two baskets—both from under-basket—to make it 42 to 36 and Enriken's foul shot rounded out the Quakers' total. Cain, fouled by Wise in the last few seconds, made good on his shot and the score was 43-37. A few seconds later the game ended with Salem in possession of the ball.

Salem Faces Canton Lincoln
The tussle was a comparatively clean one with a total of 15 fouls called by Referee John Russ, seven against Salem and eight against Warren. It was the third game in nine in which the Quakers have been out-done at the foul line and the second highest number of field goals a Salem opponent has collected in a game. The Quakers were just under their season's average at the free throw line, making 45 per cent of their tries. Their season's average is 47 per cent. Warren made 62 per cent of their attempts.

The Quakers are scheduled to travel to Canton Friday night to meet the Lincoln squad. Salem season's record now stands at four wins and five losses, while Warren's win last night gave them a total of eight wins and one loss. Salem's game against the Presidents is the toughest one Warren has encountered since losing their opener to Cleveland East Tech 35-33.

BOWLERS TO HOLD TOURNAMENT HERE STARTING MARCH 13

Annual Event At Bowling Center Alleys; Entries To Close March 4

The annual tournament conducted by the Salem City Bowling association will be held March 13 to 23 on the Bowling Center alleys. The place was decided by a vote of team captains of all the leagues, the B & G Recreation alleys in Washingtonville having received only a few votes less than the Salem alleys.

Entries must be in by March 4 and averages as of the week of Feb. 4 will be used to determine handicaps. The entry fee of $1.75 will include the cost of bowling. As in the past, any bowler may enter two five-man events but is permitted to roll only once in the doubles and singles.

The Bowling association also has arranged for a headpin tournament for Saturday, Feb. 12, for the benefit of the Boosters club. Money raised in this manner will be used by the club for farewell gifts to soldiers entering the service.

RESERVES DEFEAT WARREN, 25 TO 24

Salem's reserves won out last night in an exciting nip and tuck preliminary, as they snatched the lead in the last few minutes to drop their visitors from Warren, 25 to 24.

Headed by Don Firth, Lew Juliano, and Ben Brudery, the locals garnered their win after Warren had tied the score 19-19 at the end of the third quarter and stepped into a one point lead when the final stanza was half over. With four minutes to go Brudery scored on a fast break and was fouled as he shot. The basket counted, making it 22-21 in Salem's favor, and Brudery made the shot good and the score 23-21. Then DeBolt sank a basket and tied it up as the clock rounded the three minute point.

Collect Eight Apiece
Juliano came up with a two pointer from under-basket to make it 25-23 and a few seconds later fouled out of the game as a Warren man attempted a shot. Warren tried one throw and then elected to take the ball out of bounds, but lost it to the Quakers. The contest ended with the Quakers in possession of the ball after Reynolds had been fouled and took the ball out instead of trying the shot.

Juliano and Firth got eight points each, Brudery made six, and Lowell Myers collected the additional three. For Warren DeBolt led scoring with eight points.

The lineups:
SALEM: Hollinger 0, 0-0 0; Firth 3, 2-2 8; Pridon 0, 0-0 0; Juliano 2, 4-8 18; Reynolds 0, 0-0 0; Myers 1, 1-3 3; Brudery 2, 2-6 14.
Totals 8 9-25

WARREN: Robinson 2, 0-4 4; DeBolt 4, 0-8 8; Bollas 1, 0-2 2; Penman 0, 0-1 1; Loiz 2, 0-4 4; Reed 1, 0-2 2; Aund 0, 0-1 1; Brodgon 1, 0-2 2.

JUMPS INTO SPOTLIGHT - By Sords

HE WAS AN OLYMPIC TEAM SKIER AND HELD THE NATIONAL ALL AROUND TITLE IN 1942

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Jan. 19—Looks as if round two of that battle of the minor league convention would begin when baseball's post-war planning committee next month... Judge W. G. Bramham, the minor league boss, didn't spare anyone's feelings in his "suggestions"—least of all the chain operators... and as the first reply, President Shag Shaughnessy of the International League pointed out that local ownership of minor league clubs may be the ideal situation, but only such smart baseball men as Earl Mann, Mike Kelley, Jack Dunn and Charley Graham have made it work... the chain system has its faults, but it does provide the best "baseball brains" for the little clubs... wonder where that puts Shag? He's a right smart and independent man, but he heads a league in which every club is owned by or closely associated with a major league outfit.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Word is that Francis Schmidt sees more future in pro football than he does in coaching at the University of Idaho and can be had for the asking by any of those pro teams being organized on the Pacific coast. Nineteen claims were made for Big Raid at Hialeah Monday—indicating that there may be something in a name.

UNANSWERED QUESTION
An airline points out that after the war it will be able to provide overnight transportation from the major league cities to Los Angeles and San Francisco, in case the circuits want to spread out to the west coast... does that mean baseball will be a fly by night business?

SERVICE DEPT.
Tuffy Thompson, the old Pittsburgh Steeler and Green Bay Packers halfback, who has three zeros to his credit, is back from the South Pacific to train as a bomber pilot... Joe Maniaci, former Fordham and Bears star, was boosted to lieutenant (jg) and made officer in charge of civil police at the Bainbridge, Md., naval station all in one week... Well, a winning coach always did get a raise.

Denison and Miami Add To Victories

(By Associated Press)
Four of Ohio's top college basketball teams rolled along to new conquests last night without a threat to their records.
Denison university put on the pressure in the last half to defeat Ohio Wesleyan 64-46. The Ohio conference leaders also led 29-22 at half time in the non-league game.
Kjorek, Denison scoring ace, counted 30 points while Jim Keane, Wesleyan forward, was high point man for his team with 15.
Undeclared Miami university ran its victories to seven by walloping Earlham at Richmond, Ind., 79 to 45. It was Earlham's sixth loss in seven starts. Ben Cole, Miami forward, was high scorer with 19 points.
Bowling Green captured its 13th victory in 14 games by beating the Filers from Patterson field 54 to 30. Big Don Auten, Bowling Green center, was the ace defensive star while scoring 12 points.

WOMEN'S BOWLING TOURNEY SET FOR MASONIC TEMPLE

Dates Are Same As Event For Men; Entries Will Be Closed Feb. 26

At a meeting of the Salem Women's Bowling association Monday night, arrangements were made for the annual city tournament to be held March 13 to 25 on the Masonic alleys.

Bowlers will be permitted to roll only once in the team event, as well as in doubles and singles. Handicaps will be determined on the scratch count of 170, each bowler being given 60 per cent of the difference between his average and 170. Those who have bowled in less than 21 league games this season will not receive handicaps. Averages as of Feb. 12 will be used, combined average being taken for those who bowl in more than one league.

Deadline for entries will be Feb. 26 when entry fees of $1 for the team event and 75 cents each for the doubles and singles must be sent to the secretary, Mrs. Carrie Slagle.

Gertrude Vannie, Agnes Skorpinski and Carrie Slagle were appointed a committee for the "Kegler" which is to be printed annually for the bowlers.

A committee for the headpin tournament, to be held Feb. 12, includes league secretaries—Carrie Slagle, Olive Ramsey, Ruth Hine and Erma Rapp.

Good Little Cage Stars Are Scarce But Plenty Good

BY TED MEIER
NEW YORK, Jan. 19—What with all these big boys playing basketball these days, good little cagers are scarce, but the few who are around can play rings around the giants.
Speed in cutting for the basket, accurate shooting and general all around floor work stamp the slippery little fellows on the hardwood. Al Ingberman, 151-pound 5-foot star for Josh Cody's Temple Owls, is one of the best. He played High school basketball only last season but so far this winter he has been a pain in the neck to such teams as Oklahoma Aggies, Western Kentucky, Havana, Penn State, Muhlenberg and St. John's of Brooklyn.

Little Hy Gotkin, 5-foot, is the star for St. John's beaten in only one game. In Maryland, Gene O'Connor, of the Baltimore Loyola quintet, is outstanding. He stands 5-foot 8 and tips the scales at 150 pounds. He is the son of Maryland's governor, Herbert R. O'Connor.

Then there is Gene O'Brien, 150-pounder who led New York university to a one-point victory over Connecticut; Chuck Eades, the 5-foot 8 midget of the Valparaiso, Ind., team that upset mighty DePaul; Harry Bushkar, of Logan, W. Va., high scoring 5-foot 8 guard for Virginia Tech; and speedy Harry Riggs, 5-foot University of Virginia forward.

Perhaps the tiniest player of all is Mal Bramble, of the high scoring Rhode Island state quintet. He weighs only 125 pounds and stands 5-foot 4.
The first watches with coiled springs came into use in the 17th century.
In the last 4,000 years of history there have been but 268 years entirely free of war.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service of the City of Salem, Ohio, at the office of said Director in City Hall, until 12:00 noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, February 10, 1944, at which time and place said bids will be opened and read aloud, on the following: 1. Approximately One Hundred and Twenty Five (125) Tons of coal per month for the year 1944. Said coal to be run of mine and screened, and separate proposals are to be furnished, first, as a guarantee, that if the bid is accepted a contract will be delivered to the Pumping Station on West State Street, Salem, Ohio, and second, for such coal to be delivered by city trucks. Bids must be accompanied by an analysis of the coal proposed to be delivered showing the percentage of slack.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

2. All electric light bulbs which may be required by the City of Salem, Ohio for the year 1944, including all bulbs necessary for the street lighting system, traffic lights and city buildings.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

3. Chlorine in such amounts as may be required by the City of Salem, Ohio for the year 1944.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

4. River Washed Sand, Mason Sand, River Washed Gravel, Crushed Limestone, Sand Limestone, Slag and Cement in such amounts as may be required by the Department of Public Service for maintenance and repair for the year 1944. Bids proposals to be quoted first, for such materials to be delivered by the Bidder to the Department of Public Service, second, for loading such materials on city trucks by the Bidder, and third, for such materials to be loaded on city trucks by city employees.

5. Approximately eleven thousand pounds (11,000 lbs.) of Sodium hexametaphosphate to be furnished and delivered to the Salem City Water Works during the year 1944.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

6. Year 1944 requirements on State Highway Specifications T-60 or Amicite, for maintenance and repair. Prices to be bid on this material both F.O.B. Plant and delivered to Salem, Ohio.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

Should any bid on any of the foregoing items be rejected, such check will be forthwith returned to the Bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Director of Public Service.

REAL ESTATE

WE ARE GOING TO SELL THIS IDEAL ONE-FLOOR BUNGALOW!!

Five-room bungalow located on Liberty Street and is one of the best built houses on the street. The lot is elegant with about 60 foot frontage. This lot is very beautiful with a variety of shrubbery, trees and beautiful flowers. Every inch of it is in grass and is as nice as any golf greens. The kitchen is the very latest with beautiful cupboards and dish-washing sink. There is a cute little breakfast room off the kitchen, nice dining room, living room, two bedrooms with a bath in between the bedrooms. This bungalow has one of the nicest basements in Salem. The fruit cellar and coal bin are all partitioned off separately. Also has shower in basement. There is a drilled well under the breakfast nook, with a pump for drinking water. The well is in addition to the city water. This bungalow is well insulated with rock wool costing $150.00. This insulation makes the house cool in summer and much warmer in the winter. The storm windows for the entire house are fitted so that in summer you take out the glass and put in screens.

Very up-to-date new garage. Asphalt drive with curbing on the sides. Now for someone who wants a real home at a low price, here it is. We are offering this grand bungalow to you for only $5,500.

There is not one dime that you can possibly spend on this home inside or out. Owner claims he is sacrificing in order to sell this home as he has other interests and for this reason is very anxious to sell at once. If you really want to buy a home on Liberty Street, do not let this rare bargain slip by. Come in and let me show you this home so that you will really appreciate it. For more particulars, see

"BETTY" HAS BAD DISPOSITION

"BOUNCING BETTY" is no girl friend of the Yanks in Italy. "Bouncing Betty" is a deadly German S-type anti-personnel mine that has accounted for many casualties among the Allied troops in Italy. Every foot of ground abandoned by the Nazis must be closely scanned to detect them and render them harmless. This U. S. paratrooper has just dug one up with his trench knife. This is an official United States Army Signal Corps photo.

Rail Movements Assured
In his announcement, Secretary Stimson said the agreements "provide assurance there will be no stoppage of rail service."

Sen. Wheeler, however, who is chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, said the military draft and the lure of higher wages in war industry are thinning personnel ranks to dangerous levels.

"If something isn't done to relieve this situation," the Montanan said, "we are in for serious trouble."

"Railroad men are being drafted every day and there are thousands of experienced railroad men in the armed forces."

"The railroads are so vital to the prosecution of the war in the transportation of troops, arms, equipment, food and everything else that we can not afford to take chances on adding to the thousands of idle cars we now have because the railroads can't find experienced men so vitally needed."

He said there had been instances of men being returned by the services for work in aircraft plants and other war plants and that such a course to relieve the railroad manpower shortage merited consideration.

Rotarians To Hear Indian

When H. G. Misra of India comes to Salem to speak to the Mullins Foremen's club Monday night, Jan. 31, the Rotary club will change its meeting from Tuesday to Monday noon in order to have the same speaker on its program. Alden Gross presented Rabbi L. E. Philo of Youngstown as the speaker at yesterday's meeting in the Memorial building. The retired pastor of Rodef Sholem temple cited the fourth object of Rotary—goodwill and understanding between nations—as the basis for a lasting peace. In his scholarly talk he said that peace cannot be attained merely through tolerance and he used many Biblical injunctions which he said were intended to apply to nations as well as individuals.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

But the invaders reformed their line in a half-circle about the southwestern approaches to the metropolis, close enough to continue the merciless gunfire and bombing. When the Germans first swung their blockade about Leningrad, Hitler flung out at the world in his harsh gutters:

"Leningrad forces are at their knees. This city will perish."

But the people of Leningrad picked up the challenge and hurled it back at the Fuehrer. They worked and they fought when many were so weak from hunger that they staggered. They endured all this in a hell of bombing and shelling, and when the Boche sent their troops against the city itself, the people smashed them back. The defenders of Leningrad are credited with having killed more than 400,000 German soldiers during that awful period.

Since the blockade was broken things naturally have been easier for the population. Still, the awful hammering of bombs and shells has never ceased, and the casualties among the residents have been terrible.

Major Who Outfought 30 German Fighters Hailed

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Maj. James H. Howard of St. Louis, a former "Flying Tiger" who outfought 30 Nazi fighters in a flaming half-hour over Oschersleben last Tuesday to protect a formation of Flying Fortresses, was hailed by his Mustang pilot-mates today as a "one-man airforce," but he merely said tactically, "I just seen what looked like my duty and I did it."

The 30-year-old six-foot-four Missourian buzz-sawed devastatingly into the swarm of Nazis during one of history's greatest air battles to become America's first air hero veteran of both the Pacific and European theaters.

His exploit rivals for sheer drama the feat of the missing Lt. Comdr. Edward H. "Butch" O'Hare, who single-handedly tackled nine Japanese dive-bombers, knocking at least six into the sea, and elevates him to the distinguished and growing roll of American air heroes.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE GERMAN DEBACLE

FROM STALINGRAD in January, 1943, to a German debacle in January, 1944, is the story this map tells in four chapters. The Russian pioneer moves began with the encirclement (1) of 350,000 of the Wehrmacht in Stalingrad. Next came the Donets Basin encirclement (2) and this led to the Melitopol Drive (3) which tied up the Crimea. The final chapter (4) finds a vast army facing a trap in the Dnieper bend; the railroad town of Vinnitsa and the Odessa-Warsaw railroad in peril; the Russians shoving toward Rumania and, as indicated by star, reports that Russians have attempted to land at a point near Odessa and behind Nazi forces on the Black Sea in a move to open a new front in that region.

Fashionable Chicago Suburb Holds Unique Bond Drive Campaign

(By Associated Press)

WINNETKA, Ill., Jan. 19.—Residents of this fashionable Chicago suburb auctioned off their services ranging from dish washing to portraiture last night to neighbors who pair for them in war bonds totaling $1,144,000.

The "odd-jobs" auction opening the village's Fourth War Loan drive shot the night's total over the million mark when 32 persons pooled bids aggregating $239,000 for the services of Mrs. Anita W. Burnham who offered to paint any picture of their choice or give a lecture.

Hughston M. McEain, Chicago department store president, whose talent as a snow shoveler went for $20,000, bought $150,000 in bonds to have his wood chopped by the Holman D. Pettibone, father and son. Pettibone, Sr., is president of the Chicago Title & Trust and the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, "bought" McEain for one shoveling of his 100-foot sidewalk and purchased $19,000 in bonds to have Frederick Scott, president of another Chicago department store, wash his dog.

For one day's typing by Mrs. Chesser Campbell, the Chicago Title & Trust Co., paid $109,000. Two groups of debutantes willing to mend children any night except Mondays, went for $10,000 and $20,000. Other services included sculpturing a statue, $35,000; washing an automobile, $27,500; cooking a meal, $30,000; buggy riding a baby, $12,000.

known here the Russians apparently have made no effort to explain to any Anglo-American representative the purpose behind Pravda's publication of the rumors, attributed to Cairo sources.

The incident apparently has caused no little puzzlement in the U. S. State department and the British foreign ministry where there is obvious concern over the extent to which Russia's present line of activities, including her lone hand plans for dealing with Poland, may reflect a growing independence of Anglo-American hopes for peaceful collaboration after the war as well as at present.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—David Anderson, NBC reporter in Stockholm, said today that Stockholm newspapers are carrying a story to the effect that Adolf Hitler had dispatched semi-official representatives to Ankara to discuss separate peace terms with Russia. The story was credited to the Geneva newspaper La Suisse.

Portable Electric Welding Equipment Repairs Bridges

LISBON, Jan. 19.—The recent purchase of portable electric welding equipment by the county highway department, has made possible the repair of several bridges throughout the county when new trusses and parts were not obtainable. County Engineer Charles O. Snyder pointed out today in announcing repairs are being made on the township road bridge, just off the Lisbon-Logtown road, leading to the old McKinley Boy Scout reservation.

The bridge which has long been posted to reduce load limits because of the rusted condition of trusses, today is being made good as new due to the electric welding of the weakened parts and the placing of a new plank flooring. The portable welding equipment in addition to eliminating the necessity for new parts for the bridges, and makes possible the repair of the structure without dismantling, Snyder said.

WPB Decides That, Afterall, Children Must Be Important

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

Hardest hit by wartime clothing shortages up to now have been America's small fry—the youngsters under six.

If you have shopped for children's clothes recently, you no doubt have come home exhausted and exasperated from a fruitless search for such apparent staples as snow suits, knit training pants, diapers, undershirts and blouses.

The little waste dresses and suits you have seen have been either of inferior quality or far beyond your usual budget. Probably you have decided that you'll simply have to make the children's clothes yourself, if they are to be covered.

WPB Has Change of Heart
Now, however, things are due for a change. The War Production board, bombarded by indignant mothers, has authorized manufacture of more than two million dozen infants' and children's garments in the first three months of 1944.

Some 18 million yards of cotton fabrics, such as broadcloth, prints, denim, poplins and flannel, are reserved exclusively for manufacture of specified children's garments in which there have been serious shortages. Furthermore, quality and price ceilings are stated. Among the articles to be manufactured under the new order are: Gowns, shirts, sleepers, crib blankets, diapers, training pants, coat-and-legging sets, snow suits, sweaters, rompers, sun suits, overalls, coveralls, wash suits and dresses, anklets and ribbed hose.

All are to be durable, practical and low-priced.

So cheer up, Mom—Uncle Sam was decided that your children's clothes are essential after all.

Killed By Train

FINDLAY, Jan. 19.—Frank P. Daniels, 79, was struck and fatally injured by a passenger train near the depot in Van Buren.

Theatre

The gay technicolor musical "Thousands Cheer," which shows the State for the last time tonight is a love story of an Army private, Gene Kelly, who falls in love with Kathryn Grayson, the colonel's daughter.

Martha Scott has the feminine lead "In Old Oklahoma," scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State. The emancipation of women plays an important part in the plot. Cathy Allen, Martha Scott, has written a book filled with revolutionary ideas about the place of women in the expanding nation which meets with disgust from the town people who would rather leave town. Action of the film follows when she meets John Wayne and Albert Dekker on the train, two men, whose conflicting emotions and ambitions are destined to change the history of the pioneer southwest.

The efforts of a small town business man to escape from unwanted matrimonial entanglements form the gay theme of "Gildersleeve on Broadway" which shows at the Grand Thursday through Saturday, along with "Wagon Tracks West."

Drunken Drivers Fined

LISBON, Jan. 19.—Two motorists paid fines of $100 and costs when arraigned before Mayor G. C. Rauch on charges of driving while intoxicated. The offenders, arrested by Officer Edward Baker, were Steve Paniecz of Avella, Pa., and Anton Pierce of R. D. Lisbon.
